Dogs With Yellow Fever.

A Washington special dispatch to the Chicago Times states that Dr. Steinberg reports to the National Board of Health the result of his experiments of yellow fever infection on two dogs, two cats, one monkey, two rabbits, three Guinea pigs, two geese, and three chickens, by confining them on the infected bark John Welch, Jr., for two days. No effect was noticeable on any of the animals excepting one of the dogs, which, although returning from the ship apparently in good health, on the following day was taken down with a severe attack of fever lasting two days, during which the temperature reached 107 degrees, accompanied by wild delirium and followed by coma. The dog recovered, and it is the Doctor's intention of making more experiments so as to determine whether this attack of fever resulted from exposure to the yellow fever poison. It will be interesting to know positively whether dogs subjected to such exposure can be infected with the disease. The result of the present experiment gives good reason to suppose such to be the case. There are instances where dogs, the companions of children attacked with diptheria and scarlet fever, having confined themselves in the sick patient's room, have exhibited all the symptoms of the disease and died.

The Cliff Dwellers of Arizona.

The Moquis Indians of Arizona, numbering 1700, live in seven villages on the top of three cliffs or headlands that rise more than 600 feet above the plains. Why they choose these unhandy places is a mystery. On reaching the villages, says a recent visitor, one finds one's self on a flat lodge of bare rock which extends out from the main table nearly half a mile in length, and from ten feet to perhaps three hundred feet in width. The sides are almost perpendicular. The most populous of these villages, Wal-la-pi, is on the extreme end of the rocks, where the width is not over one hundred feet. All the water for all purposes is carried in earthen vessels on the backs of men and women from a spring near the foot of the mountain, a distance of nearly a mile, while the wood is brought eight miles. Here these people have lived longer than they can tell, even from their traditions, and hitherto they have been averse to a change of location, notwithstanding the difficulty of obtaining their necessary supplies and the distance from their fields and herds.

They Peppered Each Other Well.

Bird shooting among the reeds along the marshy shores of the Delaware is perilous to the hunters, in consequence of careless markmanship. The Philadelphia Times says that a Philadelphian accidentally put a few shot into the arm of a Jerseyman a few days ago. The angry Jerseyman, seeing a wreath of smoke rising out of the marsh, returned the fire. Without getting any nearer to each other the two gunners paddled out into a small clearing, where the reeds did not obstruct the view. Then they quarrelled, and finally the Jerseyman put up his gun to fire again. His opponent followed suit, and they both pulled triggers at the same moment. The duellists were then about forty yards apart, a distance at which a good deal of pain could be inflicted, with no danger of fatal results. They fired away until both were extensively punctured, when they stopped by mutual consent. They at once stripped off their clothing. They were dotted with blood and little purple-black spots, where the shot had entered.

How Providence Cares for Its Poor.

The city of Providence began, a year and a half ago, to dispense its charity on a new plan. Helpless paupers were kept in an almshouse, or aided at home, as before; but all able-bodied applicants for food or lodging were put at work in a wood yard at fifty cents a day. Unworthy families who had been assisted by the city for years, dropped out of the Charity Commissioner's sight, while begging decreased greatly. Tramps began to give the city a wide berth, for they had to pay for their lodging and meals with work in the wood yard, and the station-house lodgers during the year numbered only 2479, against 9425 for the year preceding. The new system has also been one of economy, the expenditures for outdoor and indoor relief being $13,240, against $19,144 for outdoor relief alone during the preceding twelve months. The wood yard is self-sustaining.

Both Licensed to Marry Her.

From the New York Tribune.

Two beautiful young men in Lonoke, Ark., procured licenses to marry the same girl on the same day. She lived four miles out of town, and was not considered a coquette. It was a case of "first come, first served." The young man who arrived an hour too late had boasted that no woman in America could jilt him. So the fair Leonora put her wits together to undeceive him, they being engaged at the time. She had but recently formed the acquaintance of the gentlemen she subsequently married; and as he made a proposal of marriage; she determined to accept it at their next interview, which she did, appointing the same day on which she was to have been led to the altar by her first lover—but one hour earlier.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

A high agricultural authority estimates the loss on English crops at $125,000,000.

Divorce is a leading subject of discussion in Paris. Alfred Naquet and Dumas favor it.

The Methodist Conference of southern Illinois refused to admit a woman as a member, although she was pastor of a church.

Monclar, an eminent French agriculturalist, proposes to feed cattle, sheep and pigs on provender containing savory herbs, to give flavor to the flesh.

There has been a great decline in the adulteration of food in England since the employment of public analysis. Nearly every county now has one.

A Dunedin, New Zealand, paper records the death of another Glasgow bank victim, who, failing for $340,000, emigrated from Edinburg.

Hard times are in one respect a special providence for Glasgow. In the week ending Sept. 1st there were only 285 charges of drunkenness, against 584 in the corresponding week of 1878. The diminution has been going on for months.

Joe Pentz took a rifle to his wedding, at Mark's Gap, Texas. The sexton tried to persuade him to leave it at the door on entering the church, but he persisted in carrying it across his shoulder as he walked with his bride up the aisle to the altar rail. His explanation was that a rival suitor had threatened to kill him on this occasion, and he meant to be prepared for defense.

John, second Duke of Montagu, directed his tenants and dependents not to work or kill their disabled horses, but to send them to his fine park at Broughton, where anecdotes of his kindness are still told. He had a faithful dog, of which he made a great pet, because he said that no one else would be kind to anything so ugly. He was one of the first prominent apostles of kindness to brutes.

The death is announced of Mr. Chapman, the leading entomologist of Scotland, after a lingering illness, accelerated by the failure of the City of Glasgow bank, of which he was a shareholder. An account of him says: "To Mr. Chapman this world was a paradise of natural wonders; to him about the blackest spot was the religious pretensions which so largely added to compass the catastrophe which brought him to ruin."

Rarus.

From the Kentucky Live Stock Record.

This celebrated trotter was troubled with quarter cracks—one forward and one behind—in the beginning of the season, and was suffering from them in all his trots up to Chicago. After that he was himself, and many think that the mile he trotted at Buffalo in 2:14¾, in a gale of wind, is the best performance he has made, far ahead of his 2:13½ at Buffalo last year, or his 2:13¼ at Rochester this season. Still, Mr. Robert Bonner, his new owner, does not think Rarus as good a horse as Edwin Forrest; but he has the fastest record of any trotter in the world, and those who carp at Edwin Forrest's late exhibition of speed (2:11¾) as being private, can now take their choice, as they are both owned and are in Mr. Bonner's stable.

Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum.

DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM works wonders. In all cases of Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, or Retention of Urine, these troubles are entirely cured by the Nephreticum. Female Weakness, Gravel, Diabetes, pain in the back side and loin are cured when all other medicines have failed.

See what the Druggists of Portland and San Francisco say about Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum and English Dandelion Pills:

"We have sold a large amount of Dr. Mintie's medicines; the English Dandelion Pills; also the Nephreticum, and in all cases they are highly spoken of and give entire satisfaction."

John A. Childs, Druggist, Second street, Portland.

C H Woodward & Co., Druggists, corner First and Alder street, Portland.

Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale Druggists, Nos. 3 and 5 Front street, San Francisco, say:

"We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy before the public."

All Druggists keep these medicines.

For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.
For Billiousness and Dyspepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.
For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.

Every family should keep the English Dandelion Pills on hand.

Dr. Mintie's Remedies will not "Cure all Complaints," but will, if taken according to directions, give immediate relief and perfect a cure in all troubles for which they are recommended. jan6-6m

EDITORIAL NOTES.

John O'Moere, of Carson, recently brought suit against the Central Pacific Railroad Company to recover $50,000 damages for alleged injuries sustained by his wife in falling through the company's alleged defective wharf at Antioch. The case has been tried in the U. S. District Court in San Francisco, and the jury rendered a verdict for the defendant. The defense was that the accident did not happen on the grounds of the company. About as good a thing as a man can do for his family is to get hurt on a railroad and then sue the company for damages. Juries are usually partial to the unfortunate. But the victim of a railroad accident should make sure of the company's responsibility before he participates in a catastrophe.

In 1844 a vessel was wrecked on the Big Mud Island, off the Nova Scotia coast, and all on board were drowned. The bodies were recovered and buried. Thirty years afterwards some curious person dug up one of the graves, and found the body of a woman, in perfect preservation, completely petrified. The "stone woman" became famous in local story, and was many times resurrected by visitors. The present owner and occupant of the island has caused the body to be finally laid to rest within gunshot of his house. When last buried the body was perfect, excepting the head, which had decayed. The flesh was hard as stone, and of the color of grey marble.

Daniel McCarthy died in San Francisco, willing half his estate to "Lizzie O'Connor, who has lived with me some years as my wife." They had never been married, but McCarthy had frequently introduced her as his wife. After his death the will was disputed, but Judge Myrick has sustained the woman's suit, deciding that she was legally the wife of the deceased.

The Adam Smith of the Stock Report insist that the prosperity which came to this country upon the resumption of specie payment, is all owing to the fact that the government buys a couple of million ounces of bar silver a month, and coins it into dollars worth 85 cents apiece, which lie in the vaults in Washington and New York. Logical, truly.

Martin Johnson and Dr. Thatcher of Eureka, Cal., quarreled some months ago. Last Wednesday, for revenge, Johnson threw vitriol in the face of Thatcher's three-year-old boy. No subsequent proceedings are mentioned in the dispatch. Are there no rails or feathers in Eureka for such scoundrels?

In the walking match at New York the score at 1 o'clock this (Saturday) morning stood: Weston 405, Rowell 452, Hazael 430, Guyon 415, Ennis 377, Merritt 442, Hart 315, Khrone 382, Taylor 215, Federmeyer 248. Merritt was the favorite at last accounts.

Deadwood City, in the Black Hills, was burned yesterday. Almost the whole business portion of the place was consumed, and thousands of people are left homeless and destitute. Loss estimated at $3,000,000.

The San Francisco Chronicle building is now finished, and the members of the profession are invited to inspect it on Monday next. The presses are capable of printing 8300 copies an hour.

A dispatch from Eureka states that the grand jury of Eureka county has ignored the bill against the Sheriff's posse for the killing of the five Italians during the recent coal troubles.

Yellow fever is decreasing in Memphis. The new cases number only about three a day, now. In another month the frost will come, and the pestilence be wholly stayed.

The young person whose likeness adorns the face of the standard silver dollar is Catalo Williams of Philadelphia. The Boston Post inquires "what Philadelphian sat for the eagle?"

Yesterday was observed as a general holiday in San Jose, in honor of Grant's visit. The banks and public offices were closed.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Austin is troubled with wind.

The Methodist conference met at Winnemucca yesterday.

The "stink-bugs" are beginning to leave Austin for the season.

The rumor that Spring City was burned proves false.

White men and women are frequently found in Chinese opium dens in Tuscarora.

About one hundred Chinamen are employed to cut and trim sagebrush in Independence Valley.

The Leopard mill, which is now running on tailings, will start up on Leopard ore about the 1st of October.

Thirty locomotives are in constant use on the Truckee division of the C. P., which extends from Truckee to Winnemucca.

The morning sun, seen through the fumes that on a calm day hover over Eureka, looks like a brass door knob on the gates of heaven.

Indians were employed at Winnemucca the other day to track a thief. They followed his trail through the sagebrush and came upon the stolen goods.

The Postmaster of Austin has received notice that after the 1st of October the mail route from Austin to Ellsworth is to be curtailed to the extent of depriving the people of Reese River and western Nye county of mail communication.

A stylish but worthless young fellow tried to elope with a young lady in Carson Wednesday night. At eleven o'clock he drove to the house, the girl slipped out, and they were driving off, when the big brother stopped the horse. He ordered his sister into the house, then thrashed the stylish young man.

The strikers on the Nevada Central Railroad have again resumed work. They now get $1 25 a day and board, with the privilege of working every day in the month if they desire to do so. There are one hundred men employed, and about that number of horses. Track laying has commenced and will soon go forward at the rate of half a mile a day. It is expected that the road will be completed by next February.

A contractor on the Nevada Central railroad, says the Austin Reveille, has bargained for twelve excavators at $750 each. Each machine is warranted to excavate 500 cubic yards per day. These machines are not operated by steam power, as before stated, but by mule or horse power, each machine requiring from ten to twelve animals. So the matter stands at present. All the hopes of the contractors are built upon the work expected to be performed by the excavators.

D. Carmichael, the well-known sheep raiser, is in from Duckwater, says the Eureka Leader. He has been searching for a water range for his herds for the past two weeks, and has ridden over a scope of country a hundred miles square, where, in ordinary seasons, feed is abundant, without enough pasturage to support a hundred sheep. He will continue his search southward, in the vicinity of Pioche. There will be no stock kept on any of the ranges in this vicinity this winter. The few cows necessary for dairy purposes will have to be kept corraled and fed.

Bad Boiler Explosion at Bristol.

EUREKA, Nev., Sept. 26.

The Sentinel this morning publishes the following communication from a correspondent at Pioche: A terrible accident occurred at Bristol last Tuesday. The engine of the Hillside hoisting works was completely demolished by the explosion of the boiler and the building entirely wrecked. The explosion occurred about 5 A. M. The boiler shot into the air, passed over the dump and landed 1800 feet below. The engineer, George Stackpole, was killed outright, his remains being found in a terribly mangled condition, lodged in the branches of a tree in the canyon over 230 yards from the scene of the explosion. Webster, the fireman, was found buried in the ruins, and was taken out in an unrecognizable and senseless condition. His recovery is considered doubtful. Both men were natives of Maine and Mr. Stackpole leaves a wife and two children.

Elisha Grimes said in a prayer meeting at Little York, Ind., that he was wholly prepared to die. George Jones called him out of doors a few minutes afterward, and killed him with a knife. It is conjectured that Jones thought Grimes, professing readiness, might as well die at once, for no motive has been discovered.

A Grass Valley sportsman bagged six dozen quail along the McCourtney road on Wednesday, and says it was a bad road for quail, too.

The Santa Barbara folks are trying to get a railroad built to their town from Newhall on the Southern Pacific.

Assessment Notice.

JONES & KINKEAD GOLD & SILVER Mining Company. Location of Works, Pyramid Lake Mining District. Location of Principal Place of Business, Reno, Nevada.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Jones & Kinkead Gold and Silver Mining Company, held on the 26th day of September, 1879, an assessment (No. 10) of thirty cents per share was levied upon each share of the capital stock of the Company, payable immediately in gold coin to the Treasurer at the Reno Savings Bank, or in stock of said Company at the rate of one dollar per share, at the option of the holder.

Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on the 25th day of October, 1879 will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and if not paid before, will be sold by the Secretary at the Reno Savings Bank on the 25th day of November, 1879, at 3 o'clock P. M. of that day, to pay said delinquent assessment together with costs of advertising and expenses of sale.

B. F. LEETE, Secretary.

A NATURAL CURIOSITY.

Hundreds of Acres of Honeycombs in the Solid Earth.

Two or three miles north of Lovelocks station, on the Humboldt meadows, may be found quite a natural curiosity. The soil is composed of decayed vegetable matter mixed with sand, tule and willow roots, and although perfectly dry now, must have been covered with water, or very close to water, not many years ago. The evidence from Indian traditions, and the appearance of the country is that the sink of the Humboldt, which now occupies a long narrow basin, on the south and east side of the meadows, once overspread the whole valley, and was ten or twelve times as large as it is now, and that the particular spot in question was the last to emerge from the bed of the lake. The curious part of the story is that a piece of land, half a mile wide and a mile long is so full of that it is absolutely dangerous for a man or horse to walk over it. If a horse did start across he could nowhere find solid ground enough to turn around on, but would have to flounder through or stay there. Engineers who have had occasion to run lines across for ditches, say they lose immense numbers of pins in the holes. The cracks are from five inches to a foot or two across and so deep that the bottom cannot be seen. The blocks between are of all shapes and sizes, up to five or six feet across and are so soft and crumbly that the holes are rapidly filling up, and in the course of time will entirely disappear. The cracks sometimes are covered over by a thin crust, and a man will frequently break through, and go in up to his armpits, in a way very startling to nervous people.

THE SOIL

is of a brownish color, exceedingly fertile, and is very much like a great many hundred acers of fine land in other parts of the valley, which may have, in one stage of its formation, been in the same condition. A proof may be found in the fact that the water in irrigating ditches in some parts of the meadows has disappeared and enormous quantities have gone down in holes, causing great patches of land to sink several feet perpendicularly. The ground is covered with willow and tule roots, which crumble under the touch. On the broken ground the greasewood, rabbit brush, etc., which cover the whole surrounding country have not thus far taken root, and the barrenness of vegetation gives little evidence of the immense richness of the soil.

INDIAN JUSTICE.

Eureka Citizens Interfere With a Cremating Programme.

The Eureka Sentinel says: By the terms of a special treaty between the Government and the Nevada Indians, our civil authorities have no jurisdiction in cases of crimes committed by Indians against each other, and only in cases where the offense may be committed against a white person can they inflict puniahment. The Indians punish offenders in accordance with their own peculiar ideas. In some instances, we understand the United States District Court can take cognizance of certain crimes, one of which is murder. Some months ago a young buck killed an elderly Indian near Hot Creek, and managed at the time to evade arrest. Yesterday an Indian arrived from Tybo armed with authority for his arrest, and stated to Sheriff Kyle that the party sought was on Ruby Hill, and requested the Sheriff's assistance in securing him. He was brought to town by Deputy Sheriff Reynolds, and turned over to the Indian from Tybo. It was asserted that the prisoner would never reach Tybo, and would in all probabilitity be burnt at the stake. Some of the citizens interfered and at their request he was lodged in the County Jail. Mr. John Horn offering to pay his board until the case could be submitted to United States District Attorney Varian, at Carson City. A full statement was sent him by this morning's mail. As far as we can ascertain, no Indian has ever been hung in this State for murder.

Murry Dunham's Opening.

At the entrance to the new photograph gallery, opened to-day by Murry Dunham of Oakland, stands an easel with a fine display of his work. There are several familiar faces, including that of S. S. Sears of the Elko Independent, who looks as natural as if he was putting up a job on Kelly of the Silver State. Inside, the floor is covered with a neat carpet and everything is tidy. Some very fine pictures, equal to the work of any San Francisco firm, are exhibited. A skylight has been added to the back end of the building, and a dark room for the plates. All the finishing is done in Oakland. Parties who want pictures can have as good work done by Mr. Dunham at San Francisco prices as they can by going there.

A Fine Paper.

The weekly GAZETTE is a typographical beauty. The type is clear, the paper white, the pages neat and the matter well arranged. This week's number contains 38 columns of news and select literary articles. It is safe to say that at the price, $2 50 per year, it is the cheapest paper in Nevada.

Personal.

C. C. Stevenson and J. C. Corey drove down from Virginia to attend the trustee meeting of the agricultural society.

THE BENEFICENT WATERS.

A Birdseye View of Irrigation on the Meadows.

A running stream is one of Nature's poems. There is nothing prettier, and the great Creator must have been in thorough good humor when the idea was matured, for there is nothing to be improved, nothing that could be complained of in the charming brooks that interlace the whole earth. The only fault that could be found by the most captious, is that they are not still more numerous. This valley has been transformed by the beneficent action of water from a brown and barren sagebrush plain into a succession of farms in a high state of cultivation, reaching from mountain to mountain, and everywhere the pure sweet water from Tahoe, the diamond of lakes, flashes over the meadows.

A BEAUTIFUL PIECE OF VENEERING always reminds one of a system of irrigating ditches. A piece of knotty walnut is sawed into sheets the thickness of a piece of paper, which are used to cover commoner woods. The pieces are unfolded and matched at the middle line so that the two sides are exact mates, line for line and wave for wave. Down the center runs the division line, and a labyrinth of grain and fibre, knot and curl, extends in duplicate to the very corners. If a birdseye view could be had of any of the streams used for irrigation, they would present a similar appearance upon an enormously enlarged scale. They gather strength from a thousand trickling rills and bubbling springs. Down every ravine dances a recruit to the growing flood, and over a wide expanse the tiny lines converge towards the common center. Through a narrow gate pour the accumulated waters, and then the rule is reversed. Instead of a gathering together there is a scattering abroad. The process of duplication has set in. A little river is cut off here, another there, to be subdivided into wee streams which are to carry life and energy to the barren land. Wherever they go they leave a kiss, and soon the whole supply is lost in a network of rivulets which are the counterpart of its sources, and the picture is complete.

LASSEN COUNTY HEARD FROM.

The Coming Fair at Susanville—The Crops This Season—Hot Weather—A Country Where Hunters Find Something to Shoot.

From our own correspondent.

The coming fair will make things lively here next month. It will be the second annual fair of Plumas, Lassen and Modoc counties, and will open on Monday, Oct. 27, lasting five days. A good many fast horses are expected, and the betting promises to be lively, that is with those who have plenty of coin to bet with.

We have had a pretty good grain crop this year. Several hundred tons will be sent away. It generally pays to raise wheat for the Reno market. The hay crop is a little short this season, but there is plenty to feed the cattle that are driven here from Oregon and fattened. You will see a good deal of it sticking to the ribs of the cattle that will go to Reno during the winter. There is always a chance to drive stock to your market, at any time.

No fruit crop to speak of this season. The late frost killed all the chances last spring. "Jack" bothers us a good deal. He comes early and stays late. We would have been glad of a little cool weather this summer. New the nights are sultry, and have been so for a whole fortnight so that the roosters keep awake all night, and crow and flap their wings to get a little air. Everybody keeps well, however. It would be hard to find a healthier community than this. Fires are burning all around in the woods and the air is hazy with smoke.

If the Nevada sportsmen, instead of fooling away time on "Old Brin" expeditions, would come up here where there is plenty of game, they would have all the sport they could attend to. The woods are just alive with antelope and deer. As for rabbits, you almost tread on them, and grouse, prairie chickens, sage hens, ducks, geese, and quail are thick. For trout, there are no better mountain streams anywhere than those around here, and what's more, there's plenty of fish in them. Bears, you can rub against in the woods as often as you like. They are "game," too, when stirred up well.

GRANGER.

Susanville, Sep. 22, 1879.

Fire Near Sierraville.

Last Monday at McNair's mill, in Sierra Valley, the barn, boarding house and blacksmith shop were destroyed by fire. About $2500 worth of hay and grain was consumed, and the total loss is estimated at $5000. The fire probably originated from a spark from the house chimney. The mill was saved.

The Reform Club To-night.

The address at the Reform Club meeting this evening will be delivered by Charles Queen. His subject is "Fine Arts." The term can be used to include a good deal. Mr. Queen's address cannot fail to be interesting, and his theme may be treated in a novel way.

JOTTINGS.

—A wolf was seen near Alkali Lake a few days ago.

—It rained hard in Truckee Wednesday night.

—Stock for exhibition is coming in every day at the fair grounds.

—The rock from the Golden Fleece, spoken of in yesterday's GAZETTE, assayed 157 08.

—The Reform Club will be addressed next Saturday evening by Dr. Hogan on "Signs of the Times."

—Get in your advertisements now, and make your business familiar to the people in the country before they come to the fair.

—A defective stovepipe started a fire in Truckee the other day. Bear in mind that there is a law against such fire traps in Reno.

—There will be divine service at Trinity church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, and to-morrow evening at 7:30 oclock. In the evening there will be children's church.

—District Attorney Bowman was assaulted by a drunken man on the bridge last Thursday evening. Bowman knocked the fellow down, and went his way.

—The trustees of the Agricultural Society are in session this afternoon at the pavilion. The principal business will be to arrange for attaches to attend at the pavilion and track.

—The Jones & Kinkead trustees mean business. Assessment No. 10, for 30 cents a share, was levied yesterday. The proceeds will go to build a mill, hoisting works, and to open up the mine.

—Parties wanting cards, circulars, hand-bills or anything in the line of job work, will do well to call at the GAZETTE office, where they will find everything necessary to turn out a first-class job at the lowest price.

—B. F. Cooley has opened a barber shop on the east side of Virginia street. The first beard he tackled was Frank Bell's, and when the job was finished, the poor artist leaned against the wall, and said he was afraid this climate would not agree with him.

—Contrary to the reports circulated by interested parties, Kelly & Smith will continue to butcher after Oct. 1st, the same as usual. Anyone who visits their yards and sees the amount of fine beef cattle on hand, will be convinced of this fact. O. H. Smith is the happiest man in town, owing to the rapid increase of the business. Parties will do well to give them a trial.
